AT THE LOCAL PLAYHOUSES

THE OVERHOLSER.

"Bought and Paid For," which tested the seating capacity of theaters everywhere last season, will have its second presentation at the Overholser Friday, December 11, and from the inquiries here for seats prior to the box office sale nothing seems to diminish the drawing qualities of this notable drama. "Bought and Paid For" is a remarkable play. There does not seem to be a superfluous word in the dialogue. No dragged in comic relief. The fun is human and real. The entire action moves along in a direct and forceful manner, the humorous portion being as essential to the telling of the serious part as are the strong climaxes of the drama. The utmost care has been taken in the selection of the cast and the director has personally supervised every detail pertaining to this elaborate production.

The Beauty Shop.

The mere announcement that every body's favorite, Raymond Hitchcock, and his famous aggregation of fun-makers, with the frivolous, frolicking beauty chorus of eighty-five singing and dancing artists, were coming to the Overholser Saturday and Sunday, December 12 and 13, should be quite sufficient to crowd that popular playhouse to the utmost capacity. Local theater patrons will distinctly remember that when Mr. Hitchcock was last seen here in "The Red Widow," several hundred late comers were turned away, as the theater was crowded to overflowing at every performance. Pollock, Wolf and Gestel have provided this famous funmaker with a distinctly better play in "The Beauty Shop," though of an entirely different nature, than was "The Red Widow," also the result of their collaboration. A noteworthy metropolitan cast has been provided. Messrs. Cohan and Harris have spared no expense in surrounding Mr. Hitchcock with seven teen principal associates in leading roles.

THE FOLLY.

Patrons of the Folly will have their last opportunity tonight to witness the present bill of musical comedy and vaudeville. There are two excellent vaudeville acts, Arnold & White, black-face comedians and musical entertainers, have a very clever act. Their jokes and songs are new and highly entertaining. Gerald and Griffith appear to excellent advantage in their singing, talking and pianoforte act. There are good singers, pretty girls and high class comedians with Hyatt & LeNore's musical comedy company. The plot to the "Oriental Auction Girls" is one of the best of the average musical comedy seen here. There are six of the comedy and feature reels. Tomorrow there will be a complete change of program.

THE EMPRESS.

The famous racing play, "His Last Dollar," with David Higgins in the role originally created by him, and the most thrilling drama of its type ever produced in America, will be the photoplay feature attraction Thursday at the Empress. Daniel Frohman will present the drama of a thrilling futuristic race for a fortune and a heart as produced in four reels of pictures by the Famous Players' Film company. The story was written in drama form by Higgins and Baldwin Cooke and Higgins appeared in the dramatic production. The name of the actor, "David Higgins," has become a byword in racing circles for "last dollar," so famous is the play. On the new vaudeville bill Thursday will appear, Dyer and Leonard, classy entertainers billed as "a man, a maid and a piano," and Eldridge's Ponies, the classiest trained animal act of the season.

RUSHING ATLANTIC STORM IS NOW A MERE SHOWER

Atlantic City, Dec. 9.—The storm damage on Absecon Island as the result of the northeaster is estimated at $240,000. Atlantic City, the principal municipality on the island, suffered damage estimated at $80,000.

The storm has dropped to a mere shower. Part of the island is still submerged but normal conditions are rapidly being established.

The much battered music hall on the ocean end of the steel pier is still above water but the management expects to dynamite it if damage to the hall is as serious as it appears from the examination that is possible at this time.

Better a painful situation than no job at all.

HE WOULD END PURITY COMPACT

Wife's Adherence to Vow Is Cruel and Barbarous Says Steel Man.

WAYS OF MAN WITH A MAID

Philadelphia, Dec. 9.—The fourteen years adherence of Irene D. Cunningham to a "purity compact" constitutes cruel and barbarous treatment and entitles Clement R. Cunningham to a divorce. That is the argument of John G. Johnson in superior court.

Mr. Cunningham, president of the Crucible Steel Casting company, seeks a reversal of the decision of common pleas court a year ago, which refused to grant a divorce to him.

Before their marriage in December 1895, Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham entered into a "purity compact." The couple lived together fourteen years and the compact was faithfully kept.

In 1909 Mr. Cunningham left his wife. In support of his contention that Mr. Cunningham had been subjected to cruel and barbarous treatment, Mr. Johnson declared that his clients health was seriously impaired.

"Can there be any possible doubt that this constitutes cruel treatment?" he said. "He should be given his divorce. Continued relations between these two can be of no possible benefit to anybody on earth."

Judge Gordon in arguing against the appeal said:

"Peter, I believe once said it was hard to find out the way of a man with a maid. Yet to some extent we find on evidence of cruelties of enormity. The plaintiff himself was responsible for this condition."

"Now after fourteen years when his wife is past the stage of physical attraction he is asking you to give him a divorce in the ground of cruel and barbarous treatment. Our divorce laws would be a reproach to the nation if such circumstances could obtain a decree."

The court reserved its decision.

AIR MESSAGES FOR UNIVERSITY

New Wireless Station Is Erected Over Engineering Building at Norman.

Norman, Ok., Dec. 9.—A new wireless aerial has been erected over the engineering building of the University of Oklahoma by Sergeant Miller, Corporal Bullock and Private Hubert Hoover of Company A signal corps, Oklahoma National guard. The new aerial is two hundred feet in length, the highest point is 110 feet from the earth while the lower end is more than thirty feet high.

One of the regular wireless acts that the signal corps used last summer will be installed in one of the east rooms of the engineering building. The machine will be connected up with a generator so that messages may be sent without the use of physical power, as is the case when a company of militia is in the field.

While the operators will not be able to send over twenty miles, Captain H. V. Rozell says that he expects his operators to be able to receive messages from the regular United States army station at Arlington, near Washington, D. C.

"I know that we will be able to pick up messages from the boats on the Gulf of Mexico, and from the military stations at Fort Sam Houston and Fort Leavenworth," said Captain Rozell.

Captain Rozell and the members of the company expect to do considerable field work this winter. An instrument will be taken to the country, and communication made with the station at the engineering building.

Sergeant Miller, after the summer encampment at Camp Williams and Breckinridge, sent to Texas City, where a number of troops were camped. While there he studied the methods that the regular signal corps operators use in transmitting messages and will apply them to the local station.

PLAN A GYMNASIUM

Y. M. C. A. Acting Secretary Urges Attendance at Meeting of All Young Men Interested Thursday Night.

All young men interested in a movement for a Y. M. C. A. gymnasium are asked by Acting Secretary A. B. Cowden to meet in the offices of the association in the Patterson building at 8 o'clock Thursday night. Nearly all cities of any size have a Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. Many young doctors, lawyers and clerks have already expressed an interest in the movement and have been urging its furtherance. All these are urged to be present at this meeting at which means and ways will be discussed. If the proposition meets with the enthusiasm which is expected, rooms will be secured for indoor athletics and gymnastics and classes will be organized in basketball, handball, boxing and similar sports, some of which will compete with similar teams from the colleges of the state.

FOOTBALL CUP COMPETITIONS NOT TO STOP IN ENGLAND

London, Dec. 9.—The football association has decided to proceed with the annual cup competitions both amateur and professional the coming season and this despite of allegations made in some quarters recently that the playing of football had been interrupted with recruiting.

RAYMOND HITCHCOCK TO COME SATURDAY

Gifted with an acrobatic in stage mechanics far above the ordinary comedian of today, Raymond Hitchcock, with a sangacity that proves him a student of his public, succeeds in extracting every ounce of fun out of any part for which he is cast, but in "The Beauty Shop," produced by Cohan & Harris, he is offering fresh evidence of the truth of this assertion.

Hitchcock's subtlety of wit and wisdom in invention furnishes a latitude for merry quip and all his best that even if attempted by contemporary players, would probably fall to the mark of mediocrity, but, supplied with a book and lyrics that fairly sizzle with epigram and repartee of "The Beauty Shop" caliber, this actor may be said to have arrived at that state of perfection in the art of entertaining which places him at the head of the class in the school of American comedy.
